Water Pollution Source Sought Along Channel

Pollution of underground fresh water supplies in the area are to be investigated in a survey planned by the California Regional Water Pollution Control Board No. 4. It was revealed on Monday.

The area concerned lies upstream from 190th St., along the Dominguez Channel.

Oil Fields Next
 A similar survey to determine water pollution, if any in the Torrance oil fields is slated for the near future.

Carl Johnston, engineer for the board, said the first investigation would be within an area bounded by 190th St., Hawthorne Blvd., Alameda St. and Manchester Blvd.

The cities of Torrance, Gardena, Compton, Lynwood, Los Angeles, Hawthorne and Inglewood and the county of Los Angeles have been asked to appoint representatives to help set up the survey.

Check Wells, Plants
 The survey would include a check of every oil well and industrial plant in the district. Each of the agencies will be asked to contribute personnel to carry on most of the leg work.

Johnston said there are definite indications that underground water supplies in the area have been polluted by industrial wastes. The planned investigation would determine to what extent that is occurring and would recommend remedial measures.

Indications are that at least some of the suspected pollution comes from oil well brine that is dumped into porous soil and allowed to seep into strata bearing fresh water. Part of the impregnation might come from materials dumped into the Dominguez Channel.

Coeds to See Film on Being Air Stewardess

"Scotty Wins Her Wings," a color film on the selection, training, and duties of an airline stewardess, will be shown at El Camino College at 11 a.m. next Friday, Feb. 20, in Room 8 of the Administration Building.

W. Holmes Smith, assistant director of student personnel, said the film would be of interest to young women desiring more information about the activities and training of an airline hostess. Representatives of the United Airlines will be present, he said, to answer questions.

The film, Smith said, follows "Scotty" Sinclair arriving at the stewardess training school in Cheyenne, Wyo. It follows her through five weeks of intensive training up to the big day when she and her classmates receive their wings.

16 Local Names Appear on New DMV Listings

Twelve Torrance area motorists were letting someone else do their driving this week following action of the California Department of Motor Vehicles.
